Westlake Ohio Police Department

This plaque is presented to that Chief of Police who displays Outstanding Leadership during his/her service as Chief of Police, as Leader in Association, within his/her community, and leadership in a united effort to address the issues affecting crime fighters in local, state, federal, criminal justice, military and has contributed substantially to providing a more secure and safer Ohio for the citizens we serve.

David L. Bly was sworn in as patrolman with the Westlake Police Department by Mayor Tom Kirk on February 19, 1962. He was elected to serve as Secretary/Treasurer of the Westlake Police Retirement Fund in 1964 and served in that capacity until the OP&F was created. In 1970-1972 he attended numerous police science courses at Lorain Community College. About 1987 or 1988 he co-chaired the OACP Ethics Committee with Chief Thomas Kulp of Upper Arlington. In 1989 Dave graduated with honors from the Southern Police Institute, University of Louisville. He advanced through the ranks via civil service exams. While serving as Chief he reorganized the Westlake Police Department, published the Westlake Police General Orders Manuals and the State Mandated Jail Operations Manual.

The largest and most time consuming task undertaken was the planning, promotion, construction and transition to a new multi-million dollar Westlake Police Headquarters and Jail Facility that met Ohio State approval. Chief Bly was one of the chiefs that originally met to discuss and consider the need for the Ohio Retired Police Chiefs Association. When asked he agreed to serve as Secretary/Treasurer of the Association and has served in that position since ORPCA was formed. He attends every Board Meeting and General Membership Meeting held by the ORPCA taking minutes and preparing them for publication. He attends all meetings in other cities when asked. He chairs the Membership Committee and makes a concerted effort to find ways and means to obtain new members. He makes accurate financial reports on all the Association's accounts. Chief Bly is an outstanding leader, dedicated worker, that the Ohio Retired Police Chiefs Association is fortunate to have serving on the Board of Governors.

Presented to
Chief Martin G. Lentz
Cleveland Heights Police Department

This plaque is presented to that Chief of Police who displayed outstanding leadership during his service with the Cleveland Heights police Department.

Chief Lentz joined the CHPD on February 16, 1959 and he became Chief of that Department on August 1, 1974. He then served as Chief for thirty-six (36) years, retiring on December 2, 2010. His law enforcement career spanned fifty-one (51) distinguished and unblemished years. Chief Lentz was also a practicing attorney and a member of the Ohio Bar.

Under his progressive leadership, the CHPD became one of the first police departments in the county to apply computer analysis to crime statistics and he developed innovative shift assignments that significantly improved the department's response to calls-for-service. Chief Lentz instilled "community policing" long before that phrase came into vogue in the nation.

In 1990, Chief Lentz relocated the Police Academy to an abandoned Cleveland Heights fire station on Monticello Blvd. and Noble Road after the building had been totally refurbished by members of the CHPD. Upon his retirement in 2010, the city renamed the structure the Martin G. Lentz Police Academy in his honor to publicly acknowledge his professionally progressive law enforcement efforts as a servant of the people.

On December 9, 2010, Rep. Dennis Kucinich, Ohio 10th District, paid tribute to Chief Lentz by entering into the Congressional Record remarks outlining his dedication and expertise that continually demonstrated his daily concerns for the residents of Cleveland Heights. (Capitolwords Vol. 156, #162).

Chief Lentz Spotless record speaks for itself and that he was without a doubt been an outstanding leader, much revered by his peers.
